To Whom It May Concern,

Subject: Important update: Ialuril® UK distribution from 9th April 2026

We are writing to inform you that from 9th April 2026, IBSA UK&I will assume direct responsibility for the commercialisation and distribution of Ialuril® in the UK and Ireland.

IBSA has developed and manufactured Ialuril® for many years and is the global leader in hyaluronic acid production. As part of IBSA's continued investment in urology and urogynaecology, commercial and distribution responsibility will now sit directly with IBSA UK&I, strengthening our long-term stewardship of the brand.

Oxford Pharmacy Store (OPS) has been appointed as IBSA UK&I's primary NHS distribution partner for Ialuril®. As a specialist UK wholesaler with established NHS infrastructure, OPS will manage ordering and supply to NHS customers, supported directly by IBSA UK&I.

Our priority is to ensure continuity of supply and a seamless transition for customers and patients. We intend to honour current pricing arrangements in place. OPS will manage ordering, logistics and supply to NHS clinics, supported directly by IBSA UK&I.

For ordering information or supply queries, please contact:

Over the past decade, ASPIRE Pharma has successfully represented IBSA across the UK and Ireland, building trusted partnerships and consistently delivering exceptional service.

We extend our sincere thanks to ASPIRE Pharma for their dedication, collaboration, and significant achievements throughout this longstanding partnership.

This transition reflects IBSA's expanding commitment to the therapy area, with a growing UK urology portfolio and renewed focus on supporting clinicians and patients through scientifically grounded, high-quality therapies.

We appreciate your continued partnership and look forward to working with you directly.

Kind regards,

Steven Knapp
General Manager
IBSA UK&I
